OUR AGENT AT CUMBERLAND GAP.

Lieutenant A. J. Harrington, Company A, Twenty-second Kentucky Volunteers, is agent for the Louisville Democrat.

THE DRAFT BILL.—We publish this morning the draft bill of the State. It is a complete measure, perhaps, as has ever come from the State Government, and leaves few or none exempt. It will be seen that whenever a legal requisition is made volunteers are counted as forming a part of the number from each county, and the draft is made only when the number is not complete. There are yet a few days for the young men to turn out, and not only get their bounty, but save themselves from the disgrace of a draft. There is yet time for Kentucky to fill her quota, and we wish for the honor of the State, that she would do it. Come out, boys, now; it will take little time to fill up the State force.

We have repeatedly urged the necessity of discipline and drill among our men, and have taken occasion to point out that the defeat of Colonel Motte at the hands of the rebels is due to the want of discipline.

2. If the militia of the State be not organized so that the Governor can, by his orders to division, brigade and regimental commanders, call out the men and men of each division, brigade, and regiment shall furnish, then the Governor shall call for a sufficient number of Commissioners to ascertain and enroll all persons who are by law required to constitute the militia of the Commonwealth; so appointed shall not exceed the number of counties in the State.

3. The Commissioners, or any of them, so appointed, may be required to perform for any one or more of the counties or the Commonwealth, or for their under the direction of the Governor, with all practicable dispatch, to ascertain from any and all sources of information the names of all able-bodied free white male citizens between the ages of 18 and 45 years, of each county, and to make out a complete roll for the several counties of all such persons.

4. If any person thus enrolled is, by the laws of the United States or by the laws of the State, exempted from the performance of military service, the Commissioner shall note to the fact, and the military strength of each county shall be ascertained by deducting the number exempted from the whole number on the roll.

5. Whenever a legal requisition for troops is made, if volunteers tender themselves by companies, regiments, brigades or divisions, they shall be accepted as far as wanted; but if there be not enough volunteers to meet the requisition fully, then the deficiency shall be made up by a draft, in which the number deficient shall be apportioned among the several counties respectively, in proportion to their military strength, ascertained as directed in the preceding section. But in such apportionment the counties from which the volunteers that may have been accepted, shall be credited with the number of volunteers furnished by them respectively.

6. Notice shall be published in each county, in such manner as the Governor may direct, of the time and place when and where those claiming to be exempt from the performance of military service shall meet the commissioners, and make known the cause and reasons for their exemption and furnish evidence of their truth. If the commissioner, on investigation, shall be satisfied that the applicant is exempt, he shall note the fact and the cause opposite the name of the applicant upon the roll. The commissioner or commissioners for the county shall write upon the roll opposite the name of any person who, at the time the roll is made, is then in the service of the United States, as an officer or soldier, the words "in service" or "on service" and, if the person is not in the army, shall, after offering a reward, knowingly and wilfully state as a fact any matter or thing which may be relevant, and which is true and false, with a view to influence the judgment of the commissioner, and to procure the exemption of the party from the draft, he or she offending shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction thereof shall suffer the pains and penalties prescribed by law for that crime.

7. The number of persons now in service, and those who have died or been killed whilst in service, the number enrolled in the service of the United States, and the number of men named against Morgan's brigades. They killed eight or ten of Morgan's men, and wounded two wagon loads that they saw taken off. You may rest assured that Uncle Sam has no braver officer than Capt. A.

You may publish as much of this as you think proper. I give it to you as Capt. A. gave it to me.

Respectfully yours,

D. M.

THE Madison Courier of the 29th says that John Buehler, an old resident of that city, aged eighty-seven years and eight months, died on the 29th. The evidence of Mr. Jacob Grebe, on Ryker's Ridge. The deceased was one of the oldest inhabitants of Madison, having resided there between forty-six and forty-seven years. He was an old soldier, was in many campaigns against Bonaparte, and was with the victorious allies at Waterloo. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church in that city, and acted as the sexton of that church until he became too aged to perform his duties.

RELEASER.—Lieutenant-Colonel Horace Heflin, whose arrest we noticed a few days since, was almost immediately released. The charge against him was that he moved his command without orders. The necessity of the case was Colonel Heflin's justification.

KIDS ME, MOTHER, AND LET ME GO.

Have you heard the news that I heard to-day? The sky is darker again, they say, the sun is lower. Our country calls on her sons again; a dastardly foe! She asks for six hundred thousand men; And all would be one, mother; let me go.

The love of country was born with me; I remember how my young heart would thrill When it used to hear the bugle call to arms; And like the story of Number Hill.

My grandpapa fell in that fight, you know—

My queen of the earth, thou art fallen low!

Now, I am a soldier, and I am a dastardly foe!

So kiss me, mother, and let me go.

Under the burning Southern sun;

THEATER—OPENING NIGHT.—This popular place of amusement has been thoroughly overhauled, and will be opened to-morrow for the reception of visitors, with an entire new stock company, including a few of the old favorites, as will be seen per advertisement. The bill for to-morrow evening is a good one, and we expect to see a full house. "Love's Sacrifice" will be performed, in which piece, the full company will appear; also the song Swiss Cottage will be sung by one of the new artists. We see that our old friend Bob Grierson is promoted, having received the appointment of stage manager. We hope the house will be full, as it deserves the patronage of all lovers of theatrical performances.

GOOD.—We are informed that Col. Rodney Mason wrote to Capt. Myers, stating that he wished to join the Captain's company, now recruiting for Col. Woodruff's regiment. Capt. Myers refused to accept him, as he wants none that are afraid to fight. By the way, the fitter attached to this company was captured from the notorious John Morgan, and is one of the best "blowers" in this country. If you wish to hear him, call at the corner of Second and Jefferson streets.

GOOD.—We call the attention of the proper authorities to the horde of insolent newsboys that continually throng the passageways at the Postoffice daily. GOOD.—The public are clamorous for the postage currency, to be issued in place of silver coin. Mr. Cotton, the Collector of Customs, has received $2,000, only of this issue, and that is required by public offices for change. It will soon become abundant.

GOOD.—There will be sold, at the Courthouse door, between the hours of eleven and twelve o'clock to-morrow, by the Marshal of the Chancery Court, a valuable family of negroes—the woman's first rate cook and washer.

ACCIDENT.—We learn that a machinist, in the employ of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, was seriously injured at the fire yesterday, by a portion of a brick wall falling upon him. His head was badly bruised.

GOOD.—Yesterday, about 11 o'clock A. M., a fire broke out in a brick stable on Tenth street, near Walnut. The roof and part of the building were destroyed. We do not learn the origin of the fire.

GOOD.—Further advance in IRON and NAILS. By referring to our commercial review it will be seen that a further advance in these articles has taken place.

Night near Richmond, Ky.

We learn from a reliable gentleman who arrived from Lexington last evening, that the stage and passengers arrived at that place yesterday at noon, from Richmond, Kentucky. He reports that the driver was the bearer of a letter from the Postmaster at Richmond, Mr. F. B. Ballard, dated at half-past six o'clock A. M., to Dr. Todd, the Postmaster at Lexington, the substance of which is as follows: The rebels, two thousand strong, supposed to be under Scott, appeared within three miles of Richmond, and when Col. Metcalfe took command of all the cavalry and about Richmond, went out and attacked them, driving them back and capturing one of their heavy field pieces. It was reported the rebels had an infantry force of from 8,000 to 20,000, and it was expected they would advance and make an attack on the town, yesterday morning. The driver and passengers reported having heard heavy firing of artillery from a short time after they left, until they reached Lexington. When the train left Lexington, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, for this city, a messenger arrived and reported that the whole rebel force had been driven back 6 miles, and were still fighting and retreating. Col. Jacob's cavalry took an active part in the fight. We did not learn any particulars as to the loss on either side. Gen.

McManen, the commander, is one of the very best men in the Green river country, and will certainly get up a superior regiment. Companies or detachments who wish to join the regiment will report to the Adjutant, James A. Dawson, at Munfordville. Apply early and secure a good place. Only thirty days given to recruits and a rush will be made to secure the post of honor.

Daily Democrat.

To British Subjects in the State of Kentucky.

It is understood that several applications have been received at the British Legation at Washington, from British subjects resident in the State of Kentucky, requesting information as to the steps which should be taken by them to establish the fact of their nationality in case of a draft for military purposes being made in the State, or of their being called upon to incur obligations inconsistent with their allegiance to Her Majesty the Queen, I have been instructed by Her Majesty's Charge de' Affairs at Washington, to proceed either with the view of giving such advice as should appear best suited to the exigencies of the case.

I have therefore to suggest to all born fide British Subjects in the State in any way forfeited their allegiance to Her Majesty, not violated her proclamation of neutrality by enlisting in the military or naval service of the United States during the present war, that they should appear, without delay, before the County Court, or any Court of Record, give proof of their nationality, and obtain certificates of their having done so, which should, in addition to such certificates, provide himself, wherever possible, with certificates as to his character and position from persons of respectability and standing resident in the State.

There is no reason to doubt that such papers, if produced before the officer appointed to consider claims of exemption from liability to military service, would be found satisfactory, and will entitle the claimant from such liability. It would also be advisable that they should be produced by British subjects requiring permits to enable them to pass beyond the limits of the State, and they would doubtless be sufficient in all times to secure British subjects from being called upon to take any oath or obligation inconsistent with their duty and allegiance to Her Majesty.

In conclusion, I have to point out that British Subjects who have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, but have not completed the act of naturalization, are still entitled to the rights and immunities of British subjects unless they have forfeited their claim to Her Majesty's protection by improperly voting at elections, or in any other way unduly exercising the exclusive privilege of citizens, in which case, having enjoyed the benefits of citizenship, they have rendered themselves liable to all obligations.
